DETAILED ACTION

Remarks

In response to applicant's Amendment, dated September 4, 2001; the examiner acknowledges the amendments to claims 1, 10 and 11. Claims 1-14 are pending.

Regarding the 35 U.S.C. 103(a) rejection of claims 1-14 as being unpatentable over Martin (US 5,610,674); the applicant amended claims 1 and 11 to "...emphasize the fact that the present invention is portable and is worn by the user during the times when he is walking around" and makes the argument (page 3, 2nd and 4th paragraphs of Amendment) that "...Martin is not a portable system" and that Martin does not "...teach or suggest a stand alone portable scent delivery system which can be worn by the user so that the user can walk around while receiving scent-laden air." The examiner has considered the applicant's arguments in light of the amended claims and maintains the rejections. (See Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103 section below)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

having ordinary skill in the art manner in which the invention was made

Art Unit: 2851

2. Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Martin (US 5,610,674)

Martin (US 5,610,674) discloses all the structure set forth in the claims (see Office Action mailed May 1, 2001), except wherein "...said scent generator housed in a case adapted to be worn by said user on the user's body such user is ambulatory when wearing said case thereby making the system portable." However, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include the limitation wherein "...said scent generator housed in a case adapted to be worn by said user on the user's body such user is ambulatory when wearing said case thereby making the system portable," since it has been held that making an old device portable or movable without producing any new and unexpected result involves only routine skill in the art. In re Lindberg, 93 USPQ 23 (CCPA 1952).

The applicant has suggest that the portability of the present device is a distinguishing feature over Martin in that the scent apparatus of Martin is associated with a video system and there would not be a reason to separate the systems. However, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to separate the video system and scent apparatus of Martin, since it has been held that constructing a formerly integral structure in various elements involves only routine skill in the art. Nerwin v. Erlichman, 168

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
